

Sister Ann Patrice Carrigan – 60 Years

Sister Ann Patrice is the director of Poetry In Motion, an artist management agency representing actor-playwrights who perform their works in colleges, universities, performing arts centers and theatres across the country and abroad (Hong Kong, London, Salzburg).

She is a member of the Association of Performing Arts Professionals (D.C) and the North American Performing Arts Managers and Agents Association (NYC). She was the Literary Director at Geva Theatre for 10 years and the coordinator of Geva's national new play festival.

Further back were many, many, many grammar and high school plays at Guardian Angels Grammar School, St. Stephen's Grammar School, DeSales High School and St. Agnes High School. "Those schools and convents are gone," she says. "Yet, those 'armies' of grammar and high school students and the truly wonderful women in my Congregation with whom I lived in Geneva and Rochester are among the core blessings and memories of my life."
